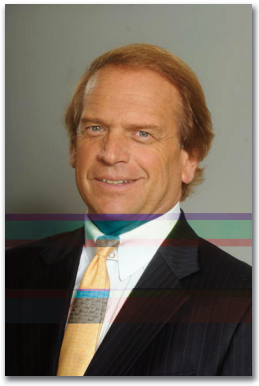
IVEY, BARNUM & O'MARA, LLC



IS PLEASED TO ANNOUNCE THAT

JOHN Q. KELLY

HAS BECOME A MEMBER OF THE FIRM

John Q. Kelly practices in the areas of personal injury and wrongful death. He has handled complex civil and corporate litigation matters nationwide and will be heading up our New York City office. John is one of the most renowned litigators in the country, with a proven track record in his areas of expertise. He has represented clients in some of the most widely publicized cases in recent times, including:

- Estate of Nicole Brown Simpson
- Parents of Natalee Holloway
- Estate of Kathleen Savio, ex-wife of former police officer Drew Peterson
- Estate of Heiress Anne Scripps Douglas
- Estates of wrong-way Taconic Parkway crash victims
- Former Yankee great Joe Pepitone

John has vast experience in accident cases that result in severe injuries (paraplegia, traumatic brain injury, electrocution, loss of use of a limb or the senses) or wrongful death (accidental or intentional). These cases usually involve construction sites, motor vehicles, catastrophic accidents, products liability, negligent supervision, negligent security and homicides.

John also handles select white-collar litigation matters for corporations and/or their officers and directors on matters that are media sensitive and when public perception and reputation are critical.

Ivey, Barnum & O'Mara, LLC has more than twenty attorneys admitted to practice in New York. In addition to expanding our New York presence and overall litigation practice, the firm will continue to represent clients in all of its practice areas in Connecticut.
